

24 Bedtime Story Prompt Cards

Cut once, use for years. For ages 3–9, at bedtime, in the car, or as a classroom writing warm-up.

Three ways to play

Tell it. Draw a card, make the story up out loud, take turns adding a sentence each.

Write it. One card per writing session — pairs with the free Doodara Picture Book Kit.

Twist it. Draw two cards and force both into the same story. This is where the good ones come from.

Printing

Six sheets, four cards each. Card stock holds up better, but plain paper is fine. Cut on the dashed lines.

If they want to see it as a book

Any of these prompts can be turned into an illustrated picture book for free at www.doodara.com — describe the story, get it illustrated, print it. No account needed to try it.
